MONTH IN REVIEW
January 1994

Civilian Labor Force

Official unemployment rates for January 1994 were based on a redesigned household survey. Those unemployment rates are not comparable to those for prior months. It will take several months before data from the new survey can be used to accurately gauge labor market conditions.

The state's unemployment rate was 8.2 percent in January 1994. The jobless rate for December 1993, as measured under the previous methodology, was 7.5 percent. Although the two months are not comparable, the rate of unemployment normally rises in January following the holiday shopping season and outside activity continues to wind down.

Nationally, the rate of unemployment in January 1994 stood at 7.3 percent. In December 1993, the national jobless rate was 6.0 percent.

The number of New Yorkers seeking employment in January 1994 was 702,000. Total unemployment a month earlier was 639,000.

Nonfarm Employment

Nonagricultural wage and salary employment (which excludes agricultural workers, the self-employed, unpaid family workers and domestic workers in private households) fell 224,700 or 2.9 percent from December 1993 to 7,633,100 in January 1994. The decline in the state's work force reflected post-holiday layoffs of temporary help and winter-related slowdowns in business activity. All industry divisions shared in the downturn with nearly 60 percent of the job reduction in trade and services payrolls. Although the January 1994 decline was the smallest January loss since 1987; on a relative basis the 2.9 percent decrease was in line with previous January's where the nonfarm job level was close to the current job level.

Cutbacks of temporary help in trade following the holiday shopping season accounted for 71,400 or nearly a third of the nonfarm employment drop. Heavy losses were also reported by employers in the services division (-61,700). Nearly all service industries experienced lower job levels with the largest decreases posted by private colleges and universities (mid-year break), and business services. The services decline was slowed by seasonal hires in the personal services industry.

Lesser cutbacks, mostly seasonal, were reported by the remaining industry divisions. Government payrolls were down 27,900, mostly because of between-semester furloughs of hourly workers in local and state education. Manufacturing employment, which normally reaches its yearly low point in January, fell 23,100 from December. The apparel industry led the nondurable goods downslide while the largest durable goods job loss occurred among electronic and electrical equipment factory employees. Cold weather continued to slow construction activity as 21,800 workers were missing from January payrolls. Nearly half of the 9,400 decline in the finance, insurance and real estate division was centered in the real estate portion, which was down seasonally. Inactivity in the trucking industry dominated the 9,000 decline in transportation and public utility jobs.

Year-end revisions to the nonfarm employment data series indicated that the national recovery took hold in New York State in 1993. In January 1994, nonagricultural employment was up over the year for the ninth consecutive month. Compared with January 1993, the nonfarm job count was higher by 64,600 or 0.9 percent. Services was the leader among industry groups showing over-the-year increases, up 74,200,while manufacturing employment was down 26,700 from January 1993.

NEW LABOR AREA DEFINITIONS

ANNUAL REVISIONS OF NONFARM EMPLOYMENT ESTIMATES NEW YORK STATE, NEW YORK CITY AND SELECTED AREAS BY INDUSTRY, 1992-1993

Monthly estimates of wage and salary for nonfarm establishments in New York State, New York City, and selected areas by industry for the years 1992-1993 presented on pages 8 to 103 reflect the annual revisions to the 1993 benchmark. These estimates supersede those previously published for 1992 and 1993 in the January through December 1993 issues of the Employment Review.

Employment estimates are adjusted to reflect benchmark revisions of the covered and non-covered segments of the nonagricultural wage and salary employment series. Employment estimates for establishments covered by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law under the previous benchmark have been updated where needed to the 1993 benchmark employment levels through 1993. Employment estimates for the noncovered sector such as interstate railroads, nonprofit religious, charitable, scientific, social and educational organizations and portions of government were adjusted to the 1993 benchmark based upon the latest information made available through other sources.

EXPLANATION OF DATA

EMPLOYED AND UNEMPLOYED

Employed and Unemployed. Employment and unemployment estimates prepared by the New York State Department of Labor are developed under a cooperative federal-state program administered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Current Population Survey (CPS)--the official survey instrument for measuring labor force attachment in the United States--is a monthly survey of about 54,000 households conducted throughout the nation by trained interviewers. Employment and unemployment data for New York State and New York City are based directly on responses of households within the state and city which are represented in the CPS sample.

The size of the CPS sample is not sufficient to provide reliable estimates for labor areas in the "balance of state" (state less New York City). In these areas, a series of factors are applied to administrative statistics from state unemployment insurance (UI) operations and to payroll statistics from establishment surveys to provide data on resident employment and unemployment. Data for these labor areas are adjusted so they add to "balance of state" totals.

These revised procedures, which were put into effect in January 1978, are designed to make the estimates more comparable from state to state and to incorporate more current data in the estimating process.

Employed. Employed persons are all those who during the week including the 12th of the month, (a) did any work at all as paid employees or in their own business or profession, or farm or who worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers in an enterprise operated by a member of the family, or (b) did not work but who had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent because of illness, bad weather, vacation, labor-management dispute, or personal reasons, whether or not they were paid by their employers for the time off, and whether or not they were seeking other jobs. Each employed person is counted only once.

Unemployed. Unemployed persons are all those persons who did not work during the week including the 12th of the month, who made specific efforts to find a job within the past four weeks, and who were available for work during the week except for temporary illness. Also included as unemployed are those who did not work at all, were available for work, and (a) were waiting to be called back to a job from which they had been laid off, or (b) were waiting to report to a new wage or salary job within 30 days.

Civilian Labor Force. The civilian labor force comprises all civilians classified as employed or unemployed in accordance with the criteria described above. The civilian labor force participation rate is the ratio of the civilian labor force to the civilian noninstitutional population.

Rate of Unemployment. The rate is the total number of unemployed persons expressed as a percentage of the employed and unemployed, i.e., as a percentage of the civilian labor force.

Not in the Labor Force. Not in the labor force includes all persons 16 years of age or older who are not classified as employed or unemployed.

NONAGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT, HOURS AND EARNINGS

Benchmark. Represents a comprehensive count of employment for the various nonagricultural industries as of the first quarter of each year. The primary source of benchmark information is employment data received from establishments covered by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law. Benchmark data for the remainder are obtained from the records of other private and governmental agencies. Employment estimates for the latest benchmark year and for the previous year are normally subject to revision annually. Current estimates are based on the March 1993 benchmark level for each industry.

Hours and earnings data are analyzed each year to maintain continuity of series.

Nonagricultural Establishments. All employing units except commercial and noncommercial farms, international government and private households.

Nonfarm Employment. Estimates include all nonfarm wage and salary workers who received pay for any part of the pay period including the 12th of the month. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holiday or paid vacation are included, but those on leave without pay for the entire payroll period are excluded. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the period are counted each time reported. Self-employed persons, unpaid family workers, and domestics are excluded.

Reference Week of the Month. Employment, payrolls, hours, and earnings data are based on reports from firms covering pay period, usually the week, including the 12th of the month.

Historical Continuity. Historical continuity of statistics of average hours and earnings of manufacturing production workers has been interrupted for a number of industry groups because of changes in the composition of reporting samples or changes in the relative weight of individual industries in group totals. The starting month of a revised series is identified in a footnote in the issue in which the revision is introduced. Some series have been discontinued pending improvement in the reporting samples.

Production-Worker Averages. Average hours and earnings data are derived from reports of payrolls and hours for production and related workers in manufacturing and mining, construction workers in construction, and nonsupervisory employees in private service-producing industries.

Production and related workers include working supervisors and all nonsupervisory workers (including group leaders and trainees) engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspecting, receiving, storing, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping, trucking, hauling, maintenance, repair, janitorial, guard services, product development, auxiliary production for plant's own use (e.g., power plant), recordkeeping, and other services closely associated with the above production operations.

Construction workers include the following employees in the construction division: Working supervisors, qualified craft workers, mechanics, apprentices, helpers, laborers, etc., engaged in new work, alterations, demolition, repair, maintenance, etc., whether working at the site of construction or working in shops or yards at jobs (such as precutting and preassembling) ordinarily performed by members of the construction trades.

Nonsupervisory employees include employees (not above the working supervisory level) such as office and clerical workers, repairers, salespersons, operators, drivers, physicians, lawyers, accountants, nurses, social workers, research aides, teachers, drafters, photographers, beauticians, musicians, restaurant workers, custodial workers, attendants, line installers and repairers, laborers, janitors, guards, and other employees at similar occupational levels whose services are closely associated with those of the employees listed.

--Average Weekly Hours. Represents total number of hours worked (including overtime) or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during week divided by number of employees. The averages are affected by amount of labor turnover during week, changes in amount of overtime hours, and by changes in ratio of full-time or part-time employment.

--Average Hourly Earnings. Represents payrolls divided by total number of hours worked or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, sick leave hours) during period reported. Total payroll includes both straight-time and premium pay. The averages are influenced by the amount of premium pay, as well as by changes in composition of labor force, changes in wage rates, upgrading of employees, etc., and consequently should not be interpreted as wage rates.

--Average Weekly Earnings. Derived by multiplying average weekly hours by average hourly earnings. Includes premium wages for overtime and night shift work and payments made on piecework or incentive basis. The averages are affected by changes in length of workweek, part-time work, stoppages for varying causes, labor turnover, and absenteeism.

--Average Weekly Overtime Hours. Represents total number of overtime hours worked by production workers during the week divided by total number of production workers. Overtime hours include those for which premiums were paid because those hours were in excess of the number of hours of either the straight-time workday or the workweek. Hours worked on Saturday, Sunday or holidays are included only if premium wage rates were paid.

METROPOLITAN AREAS

Metropolitan areas are defined according to a set of detailed standards published by the federal Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Effective April 1, 1990, the set of areas known as Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) Primary Metropolitan Statistical Areas (PMSAs) and Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Areas (CMSAs) were designated collectively as Metropolitan Areas (MAs).

Under these standards, a Metropolitan Statistical Area must have a city with a population of 50,000 or more or an urbanized area of at least 50,000 population, and a total metropolitan area population of at least 100,000. In New York State, MSAs are defined in terms of entire counties. In addition to the county containing the major city, an MSA may include additional counties with strong socio-economic ties to the central county.

If an MSA has a population of 1 million or more, counties or groups of counties within the MSA may qualify as a Primary Metropolitan Statistical Area. An MSA in which two or more PMSAs are identified is designated a Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area.

OMB updates the list of Metropolitan Areas each June, adding new areas that qualify as MSAs on the basis of the Bureau of the Census' intercensal population estimates or special census population counts.

Labor Market Areas

Estimates of employment and unemployment are published for a number of areas in the state that do not meet the MSA qualifying criteria. These areas are called Labor Market Areas (LMAs).

The geographic composition of selected areas is given below:

Albany-Schenectady-Troy MSA. Albany, Montgomery, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady and Schoharie counties.
Binghamton MSA. Broome and Tioga counties.
Buffalo-Niagara Falls MSA. Erie and Niagara counties.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION

Data are classified in accordance with the 1987 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual prepared by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget. For space requirements on the statistical tables, the formal SIC title for most of the industry groups have been replaced by the short SIC title as contained in Appendix B of the 1987 edition of the SIC Manual-List of short SIC titles. SIC titles used for groupings of two or more two-digit manufacturing industries reflect, to the extent possible, the respective components.
